Sensory Integration Therapy

SenSI Sensory Attachment Intervention (SAI)

Specialist Sensory Integration and Sensory Attachment Therapists

Approachable therapists providing Sensory Attachment therapy for children with trauma history and poor attachment styles that may affect sensory and emotional regulation.

If the infant brain is exposed to trauma during pregnancy or in early infancy, sensory regulation and attachment may be affected.

Sensory Attachment disorders are exhibited in the child by the following survival reactions when they are processing stress – fear, flight, fight and freeze (compulsive compliance, stubborn defiant and/or stubborn resistant).

Children with sensory attachment disorders can:

-  Dissociate (under react)
-  Collapse (loss of tone)
-  Falsify regulation (compulsively comply), or
-  Become aggressive and self-injurious
-  Some over-rely on visual and auditory systems for distal warning
-  Some are defensive to nurturing touch
